New York Tracks Distributed 8711,802 for 118 Days of Sport San Francisco Has the Longest Meeting of the Year-Over 1,400 Ruces and 10,000 Starters at the Bay District Course - A Strong Showing.

The racing season of 1895 in the United States, outside of New Orleans and San Francisco, where legitimate winter meetings are in progress, is ended, and as the programmes for the remaining two weeks at these tracks have been issued, it is possible to make up the figures for the year so closely that any changes cannot affeet the results more than a few hundred dollars and a dozen or so races either way. Statistics carefully compiled show that 7,362 these figures including all legitimate meetings to date, added to the estimated totals of the next two weeks at Nan Francisco and New Orleans. The outlawed meetings in Virginia, Maryland, Illinois, and Missouri are not incinded in the compilation, although the continunl grind at St. Asaph. Alexander Island, Madison, and the other "merry-go-rounds" would add materially to the showing made by the thirty-four tracks on which legitimate meetings of sport, with $2,826,749 hung up in purses and stakes for the 54,938 starters to pull down. As compared with other seasons, except those of 1893 and 1894, the showing is a strong one, yet it is far below the outcome looked forward to by racing men when the season of 1894 came to an end. In New York the new Constitution operated to cut down the purses and stakes on all of the metropolitan tracks, making a difference of at least $300,000 to winners. The closing of Washington Park at Chicago and the curtailment of the season at Hawthorne and Harlem tied up about $300,000 which would have been added to stake and purse winnings only for adverse legislation in Illinois.

With racing almost the entire year at the Hay

District track, San Francisco heads the list for 1805 with 278 days of sport and $395,900 handed over to the placed horses in 1,410 races, but the Sheepshead Bay track easily holds the paim as to average, with $308,540 distributed during a season of only twenty-six days. New York, of course, stands away in the lead as a racing centre, nearly double the sum hung up in San Francisco being earned by the runners in the metropolitan district with less than half as

San Francisco being earned by the runners in the metropolitan district with less than half as much racing. The five tracks in the vicinity of New York gave the horse owners $711,802 for 707 races, making the average value of the events a trifle over $1,000 each. There were only 118 days of racing, hence the average daily programme was worth upward of $6,000 to the horsemen. This is five times greater than the value of the average daily card at San Francisco, and nearly double the average at Oakley and Latonia, the two tracks near Cincinnati, where $367,480 were offered for 113 days of sport. Gravesend is close after Sheepshead Bay, the Brooklyn Jockey Club naving distributed $216,505 during its spring and fall meetings for twenty-nine days racing. Brighton Beach helped the total by $78,525 for thrity-one days. The New York Jockey Club distributed $3,202 a day for tendars during the brilliant meeting at Morris Park in October, and Aqueduct, for twenty-two days of sport, paid out $44,750.

Chicago horsemen enjoyed little high-class racing, and the total sum distributed at Hawthorne, Harlem, and the three Indiana tracks was only $180,325 for 108 days of sport. New Orleans, with racing from Jan. I to April 6, and arain from Nov. 28 to Dec. 31, is prominent with $183,878, while three other tracks in the South exceeded their best previous records for one year. These were Louisville with $60,025, Memphis with $57,720, Nashville with $86,025 memphis with $57,720, Nashville with $86,025 memphis with $57,720, Nashville with $82,000 for its managers. Milwaukee was likewise introduced to the mysteries of the piort added to the circuit was Windsor Ont, where $62,630 was taken down in fifty-four days. This meeting is included in the figures for the United States, because it was managed by men from Detroit, of which Windsor is a sort of suburb, and horses from this side of the line made the racing. line made the racing.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 15.- Aside from one or two deals that Manager McCloskey may perfect before the opening of the season, there will be little change in the make-up of the Louisville team. Good offers have been made for both McCreary and McDermott. Manager Mack of Pittsburgh is said to have offered $2,500 for McCreary, while Baltimore wanted to exchange Carey and Pitcher Clarkson for Pitcher McDermott. If either is disposed of it will be MeDermott. The New York (lub. it is said, has a liking for luks and has offered Pitcher German for him. It is very likely that this deal will be made, and it is also said that another player and a money consideration will be included in the deal.

The report that Catcher Buckley and $500 had been paid for Brouthers was not true. When the deal was first proposed the Philadelphia Club offered Buckley in exchange for Brouthers, or a cash consideration for the first baseman. The latter offer was accepted, and a check for that amount is now in the hands of the Louisville officials. Manager McGloskey now has a deal on for Catcher Miller, and in case he is secured from St. Louis he will be used as a utility man. while Raltimore wanted to exchange Carey and

PILLSBURY IN THE LEAD. The Young American Befonts Techteer

St. Petersburg, Dec. 15.—The pairing for the second series of games in the international quadrangular chess tournament was announced this morning as follows:

Tschiqorin vs. Pillsbury. | Lasker vs. Steinits. Tschigorin and Pillsbury engaged in a four knights game, in which black held his own right along the line. Eventually Techigorin made a serious error, which gave the American made a serious error, which gave the American youth a chance to win the game by a few cleverly played moves. Tschigorin resigned at his twenty-fifth turn.

Steinitz defended a Ruy Lopez against Laster, with 3...P—Q R 3 and 4...P—Q 3. The veteran got a cramped game in the opening, and he tried in vain to extricate himself out of a difficult position later on, while Lasker played wonderfully well throughout. He finally sacrificed a piece, and Steinitz was obliged to resign after thirty moves.

Following is the score of the competitors up to date:

	THE COURSE OF THE PARTY OF THE

Winners at the N. J. A. C.'s Patr. The fair of the New Jersey A. C. closed on Saturday night at the club house, Bergen Point. Two bowling tournaments were arranged to take place on the alleys during the fair, but the entries in the one for the teams making the highest scores were so great that the Headpin tournament land to be postponed until this week. In all, about fifty prominent teams competed for the three high-sucre prizes. The Bayonne Rangers were high until Saturday night, with a score of 893 pins. Then the Orientals of this city and the Metropolitans, leaders in Carruchers's Brooklyn tournament, came upon the scene and carried off the honors. The scores made by the prize winning teams were:

Orlentals—Corbes, 193: Clinch, 188; Stumpfel, 209; Stein, 152; Paulson, 194. Total, 833.

Metropolitans—Whittiesey, 197; Lee, 168; Sawyer, 169; Fisher, 197; Lewis, 187; Day Steker, 197; Lewis, 181; Davis, 198. Total, 893. The fair of the New Jersey A. C. closed on SYHACUSE, Dec. 15.-Clearwater won the pool SYRACUSE, Dec. 15.—Clearwater won the pool tournament last night by defeating Keogh of Binghamton. The loss of the game to Clearwater would have meant a tie between Clearwater would have meant a tie between Clearwater DeOro, and Keogh. It was a grand exhibition from start to finish, and Keogh would have won only for a miscue. With only three balls to run, and with a straight shot for the side pocket, the little Binghamton wonder fell down and Clearwater ran out.

Clearwater has issued a challenge to meet anybody in the world, at Pittsburgh, for the championship and $1,000.

WINTER ASPECTS OF GOLF

PROSPECTS OF A VISIT FROM THE ENGLISH CHAMPION IN MAY. Conditions of the Lease of the New St Andrew's Links - Women Players at

Paterson-Plans of the Clubs Near New York - Willie Park Befented by Hen Sayerant North Berwick-Foreign Notes, Just what inducements to visit this country Willie Dunn will make to J. H. Taylor, the open champion of England, when he meets him at London a week from Monday, are not known, but the stake offered will be a large one. Before sailing on Saturday, Dunn said he was prepared to make a match for at least $1,000, the winner to take 75 per cent., to be played on the new links at the Ardsley Casino, Dobbs Ferry, early in May. Taylor's expenses will probably be guaranteed, win or lose. Dunn hopes to induce Taylor to come early in April. While Dunn seems confident of being able to bring out Taylor, there is an opinion among local golfers that he will be disappointed. A well-known Scotch player, Peter Blair, who is familiar with the professional situation abroad, said on Saturday "I hardly think it possible that any monetary considerations will induce Taylor to visit the United States before the open championship in June. He has the title to defend, and will take every precaution to be in perfect condition for the competition. An ocean trip in May would be decidedly risky, as it might upset his form. Besides, Taylor is new having much success in matches, and is in demand for exhibition games and to lay out new links. After the open championship, Taylor might decide to come over."

Willie Park, by the way, will not revisit this country until after the Great Britain open championship. It is expected that he will remain until after the American open championship and be a contestant.

The fault in the postponement of the mixed foursomes at the Paterson Golf Club on Saturday does not rest on the women. The men it is said, were "backward in coming forward." The links are in fine condition for winter golf, and Herry Hewat, the captain, says the match may still be arranged. There is no lack of good players in the Associated Ladles' Club. The record, sixty-two, is held by Miss Elise Scott, Mrs. J. W. Griggs, the captain, the wife of the Governor-elect of New Jersey, is a graceful and strong player, and Miss Anna Barbour is also an adept, Good style is also shown by Miss May Kinne. Miss A. Goodbody, Miss Louise Graham, Miss Josephine Newton, and Miss Mand Allen.

The conditions of the lease by the St. Andrew's Golf Club for ninety-nine years, with the privilege of purchasing the property at Mount Hope and the new club house from the St. Andrew's company, are very favorable. Horace Russell, the President, and his associates in the company, it is said, will receive the revenues from the golf club as the rental, up to $5,000 a year. All the revenues in excess of this sum each year will go into a fund to be credited to the golf club as part of the purchase money. By this plan, in a few years, should the expectations be realized, the golf club will own the property without the necessity of raising by other means the purchase price.

A question raised at the annual meeting on Wednesday evening of the St. Andrew's Golf Club is of widespread interest. It was in the form of a suggestion by a non-match-playing member that the special competitions and matches next season should not be held on Saturday. He said that a large proportion of the members, who had no desire to figure in prize competitions, separated to prize the figure in prize competitions, separated to he as elish policy. No decision the links on the one day in the week by the match-playing element in the cinb. In his opinion, the competitions should take place in the match-pla be laid out for a year at least. A match may possibly be arranged between Willie Norton, who is playing a strong game, and some other professional for Jan. 1.

The Storm King Club of Cornwall-on-Hudson is the latest of the country clubs to add golf to its attractions. The Board of Governors has decided to lay out golf links; a suitable ground of thirty acres adjoining the club property has been leased, and a course of nine holes is now being haid out under the advice of Willie Norton, the keeper of the Lakewood Golf Club. The new course will be ready for play next spring. The Storm King Club is onen throughout the winter, and there will be the usual festivities on New Year's night.

According to a late notice of the governors of the Balusrol Golf Club of Milburn, N. J., all invitations to become original members of the club, without initiation fee, will be withdrawn on Jan. 15, 1896, after which date there will be an initiation fee of $20, the annual dues remaining as at present, namely, individual members $10, and $20 for families.

The Rev. R. N. Merritt, who will be buried today from St. Peter's Church. Morristown, was an honorary member of the Morris County Golf Club. Nearly all the resident clergymen in that quaint old town, irrespective of denominations, are enrolled on the club's list of honorary members.

the North Berwick links. The London Field says in its report:

In the forenoon Sayers showed grand golf, going round in seventy-six, or only one stroke in excess of his record for the green. Park's score was seventy-nine, but he stood three down. In the afternoon round Sayers for a time looked like having a very easy win, for he was six up and nine to play. Park now had a succession of well-played holes, and with four to go was only one to the had. The "Redan" was haived, but the "Gate" and "Folin Garry" went to the local man, who consequently won by three up and one to play, the bye being halved. Scores in the second round were not kept, but the details of the first round were:

AN INTERESTING LITTLE BOAT. M. T. Benuett's La Gioria the First Half-

The single-handed sailing craft of about fifteen feet load water line, or of one-half rating, ac cording to the English system of measure ment, did not obtain popularity among Ameri can yachtsmen until it was adopted and pushed into prominence by the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club last season, although it has long been held in favor abroad. Particularly in England is this the case, but as a matter of fact the little craft are quite as much American as English, and have been known to a limited circle of small-boat sailors in this country for a number of years under the name of canoe yawls.

LA GLORIA, FIRST HALF-RATER BUILT I

These yawls, to give them their proper nam have been owned and sailed by members of the canoe clubs in and near this city for a number of years, and have been slowly but steadily growing in favor until there are now in thes waters several dozen of the little boats, ranging in length from fourteen to twenty-one or twentytwo feet. Most of these retain the sharp canoe stem and stern, and many of them conform to all requirements of the half-rating class. These stem and stern, and many of them conform to all requirements of the half-rating class. These small single-handed cruisers were built as far back as 1880 or 1887, and were rigged both as sloops and as yawis. All had the excessively foll water line, at that time found only in boats of that class, but which is now carried to an extreme decree.

In 1892 La Gioria, a boat of this class, was designed by W. P. Stephens, the designer of the champion half-rater Etheiwynn, for M. T. Bennett of the New York Canoe Club. Many of Mr. Bennett's ideas were embodied in the design, and the resulting craft was a half-rater, the first in these waters and the direct prototype of the Ethelwynn. The dimensions of La Gioria are as follows: Length over all, 20 feet 1 inch; length on water line, 15 feet 44; inches; extreme beam. 4 feet 6 inches; beam on the water line, 4 feet 1 inch; least freeboard, 104; inches; draught without centreboard, 64; inches. The yawl rig was first employed upon La Gioria, as shown in the accompanying Ellustration. During the past sesson a jib and mainsail rights has been used with equally good results. With it the resemblance to the Ethelwynn is perfect. The yawl rig contains 153 square feet, the mizzen 27 square feet, and the jib 38 square feet. For racing purposes a rig one-third larger, or about 200 square feet, would be necessary. La Gloria was built as a handy cruising and sailing boat, and as such has come fully up to her owners expectations. Despite her light draught of but seven inches little or no ballast is carried in single-banded sailing except a cruising outflow stores and utensils. Her iron plate centreboard, weighing 100 pounds, contributes largely to her stiffness.

The amount of room in the little craft is surprising. The cockpit is seven feet in length, and two persons can sleep in it comfortably. For this purpose a tent is carried, which is slung between the two masts, the main boom acting as its ridge pole. There are also two water-tight builkheads which form compartments available for st

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 15 .- The two and one-half rater of the fin-keel type, which the Herreshoffs have been at work on for the past two months, was launched Friday. She is the property of Augustus S. Van Wickle of Hazleton, Pa. She s fitted with a Tobin bronze fin of good length at the base of which there is a leaden ballast bulb weighing several thousand pounds and attached to the fin with Tobin bronze bolts in attached to the fin with Tobin bronze bolts in two rows. She has the characteristic long overhangs peculiar to fin-keel boats, and is fitted with a balance rudder of Tobin bronze and steered with a tiller. The deck is of white pine in narrow widths and laid in white lead at the grooves. She is witnout a cabin, but has a good-sized-cockpit, with a curbing of steam-bent oak fourteen inches high from the deck.

Her dimensions are: 38 feet over all, 25 feet on the water line, 8 feet beam, and 8 feet 0 inches draught. She will be raced in these waters and Long Island Sound next summer by her owner. She resembles the Dakotah in many particulars.

First Championship Games of the National Association Football League. The opening championship games of the National Association Football League were played yesterday. It was perfect weather for the game, although a slight wind prevailed during the afternoon. At Communipaw a good-sized crowd was present to witness the contest between the International A. C. and the Scottish-Americans of Newark. It proved to be an in-teresting game, the result being a draw, each team scoring one goal. Both were handicapped by the absence of some of their best men. The Internationals appeared to suffer most from this. Jones was of little use on the forward line. Dunning acquitted himself well in goal, and Taylor distinguished himself for the Internationals. PIGEON SHOOTING.

Experts Make Feathers Fly at Bay Ridge.

Woodlawn, and Dexter Parks. Ouite a gathering of the expert trap shooters of the New Utrecht Rod and Gun Club visited Woodlawn Park, L. I., on Saturday. The birds provided for the club shoots usually prove to be flyers of more than ordinary ability, but those of Saturday astonished even the cracks who are accustomed to glint along the gun barrels at the fastest kind of feathered targets. Not a clean score was made during the day, although in the club shoot Dr. Henry A. Littlefield, A. Eddey, and John N. Meyer tied with but a single "lost" bird apiece. The summary:

With the opening games of a stake match at the Jersey City court and a lively series of exhibitions at the other handball headquarters, lovers of the game found ample "club day" entertainment. Players were early in pursuit of the little sphere, and they did not relax their efforts while sufficient time remained. It was an ideal day for the sport, and the experts made the most of it. Mike Landy, the old-time handball and fracked player, will have a benefit at the Manhattanville Court on New Year's Day. While playing a handball match last June he was hit in the eye with the ball, from the effects of which he has lost the sight of that eye.

The return series between the "tennis" ball experts of the Contral Y. M. C. A. and the Brooklyn Handball Club attracted a large growd to the court of the latter cranitation on Saturday afternoon. The tables were completely turned on the Christians, who falled to take even one of the nine games blayed. Having played in the original match, Jinmy Dunne wrote from Brown University asking a postponement of the return series until he could be on hand. Dec. 22. Dr. thowe of the Y. M. C. A. did not get notice in time, but he agrees to have his boys at the Brooklyn Cub's courf again on next Saturday, and the Brooklyn Cub's courf again on next Saturday, and the Brooklyn men in turn consent to play a further series at the Y. M. C. A. central court on New Year's Day.
